and convent buildings, and it is supposed that at least sixty Chinese children perished in the cellars of the building, where they had fled for safety. The bodies of the sisters were thrown back into the building after being killed, and burnt. Their charred remains were afterwards collected by the order.

The French Consulate, were the further victims of the Chinese. Mr. A. Coutris was the only Frenchman in Tientsin who escaped with his life. He was concealed after he managed to elude his pursuers, and made his appearance in the foreign settlement the next following night after the massacre. Mr. Staman, a German with his family, escaped after being hidden in a stable thirty-six hours. The Chinese next turned toward the Protestant Mission. Here they found their would-be victims had fled. The houses and chapels were destroyed, after which, having completed their work of destruction, the mob disappeared as quickly as it had formed.

Mr. Stanley, an American missionary, was in the interior of the province at the time, and his wife, in his absence being without protection, fled to the foreign quarter of Tientsin along with Miss Thompson of Ohio. Had Mr. Stanley been at home, the family would doubtless have shared the same fate as the other residents of that district.

Chung-how's braves were posted between the foreign settlement and the scene of the massacre. They were thus acting either as a guard to protect the other foreigners from a lawless mob or as a guard to prevent any assistance from reaching the

The next day after the butcher Chung Low had the remains of the foreigners collected and sent into the settlement. The Russian bodies were taken from the river near the bund.

The foreign community buried all but the French in the Cemetery with bodies of the French were carefully collected and placed in coffins at the Cemetery, where they remain till the countrymen of the slain arrive to give them the proper funeral honors and interment.

A dispatch from the British Consulate was sent down to Teku to overtake the steamer Dragon, which had left Tientsin shortly before the massacre.

The steamer Appin, Capt. Russell, belonging to Jardine, Matheson & Co., and the steamer Manchou, Capt. Steele, of the S. S. N. C.'s service were in port, and as the frightful news spread, and rumors of a Chinese attack on the foreign quarter were circulated, these steamers became the places of refuge for the foreign women and children.

The Manchou with her own two gins was quickly furnished with more, making a formidable battery for the protection of the settlement. The community quickly formed a volunteer corps for the protection of their property ashore, and all night long the streets were patrolled.

This is a complaint very common among females. Hoodland's German Bitters never fails to cure this disease. The system, under its use is restored to its original strength and vigor; the appetite becomes good, the spirits become cheerful, and in body and mind you feel the full restoration of health. For sale by druggists everywhere. They are not a beverage.

Another Outrage.
On last Tuesday afternoon, about 3½ o'clock, a negro man, supposed to be one Henry Williams, went to the house of Mr. Jackson Darnall, residing on the Flemingsburg and Elhazville turnpike, rang the door-bell and on the appearance of a daughter

Mr. Charles Farris, watchman on the Kentucky Central railroad, died suddenly on Saturday August 27th, while on duty at the freight depot in Lexington. He had been delicate for some time. His body was taken to Covington, Monday, for interment.

A HIDEOUT STORY.

We copy the following infamous yarn from that contemptible low-down sheet, printed in Cincinnati, called the "Daily Gazette." The Editor says it was taken from a letter of a "gentleman" of high standing.

No people, no count, no peaceful or law-abiding as the people of our State. The Yankee Pig, who wrote it, must have done some Penitentiary act, and is now trying to get up a hub and cry against the people, for the purpose of luring his meanness. Like the Georgeown Yankees, he is doubtless mad because decent white people won't speak with him or have any dealings with him—the poor miserable cuss.

The reign of terror is on the increase in Kentucky. A private letter from a gentleman of high standing in Central Kentucky says: "Things are coming on here in such a way that we may have peace. Brave men are beginning to fear to stay at home or to tell what they know; all the weak kneed are going over to the other side and the martyr stuff men are discussing whether it would be better to fight or leave the State. Proscriptions are rigid and the prevailing spirit is vindictive and malignant."

No respectable Republican, or a half respectable one, who had any influence in his own party, would indite a falsehood so mean as the above.

THE WARD AFFAIR.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., September 4, 1870.

FRIEND MOREY:—I accept your invitation to give you some of the particulars of the killing of Maj. John H. Ward, at this place on the 17th of last month. And to make the statement intelligible it is necessary to go back beyond the difficulty with his slayer, and get at facts connecting this trouble with others proceeding it. It appears that Maj. Ward had been distressed in his domestic relations, and for years has been separated from his wife, the cause whereof, is of no possible public use. His wife bore him several children, only two of whom are now living—and one of them, an only daughter, was the unhappy cause of this tragedy. It appears that this daughter, then a widow, married a well-to-do widower of fifty years named Ammons, but that they did not live happily together, and she left her husband and sought the protection of her father, who was residing at this place, looking after his interests in extensive whetstone quarries and some seventeen thousand acres of land which he owned in this immediate vicinity.

Some time after the husband made his appearance here, and is stated to have sought a reconciliation, but did not seek to take any undue advantage of the lady in question. Maj. Ward, it appears, opposed a reunion of the ties thus sundered, and sought to render them forever twain, by putting his son-in-law out of the way entirely, through the medium that afterwards terminated his earthly existence. This son-in-law, who is quite a delicate and apparently inoffensive man, does not seem to have anticipated an attack from Maj. Ward, for when that gentleman stepped to the door and raised the gun, Ammons, who was walking up the street, looked in the opposite direction to see what his father-in-law was shooting at. He was only a moment in ignorance, for he received a full load of buck-shot in his arm and side. His first impulse was to rush into Dr. O. B. Knobe's office, and seek his protection and aid. The Doctor being a friend of 20 years standing, of course offered him all the protection he could, and by unceasing and skillful attention succeeded in preserving his life. This course, of the Doctor seemed to greatly incense Maj. Ward, who, it appears in evidence, frequently made threats against his life. These threats were proven to have been reported to Dr. Knobe; and as Maj. Ward was known to be a man who was most dangerous as an enemy, and reported to have killed several men, before, the Doctor armed himself and prepared—not to attack him, but to shoot him down on sight, which he

CAMPBELL COUNTY GOES FOR JONES.

On last Monday, the Democracy of Campbell county, held a Mass Meeting at Alexandria, for the purpose of appointing Thirty-eight Delegates to represent them at the Congressional Convention which meets at Walton, on the 27th inst.—and after appointing their delegates, adopted resolutions instructing them to cast the vote of the county unanimously for Col. Jones.

CARROLL COUNTY.

We learn by Telegraph that the Democracy of Carroll county, held a Mass Meeting last Monday, and have decided to give Arthur 14 and Jones 6 votes, in the Convention which meets at Walton.

did, as reported to you, on the 17th of last month. Thirty-four buck-shot entered Maj. Ward's body and head, and he died almost in a moment, without uttering a word. Dr. Knobe surrendered, and though not acquitted on the examining trial, was released without bail.

This, Mr. Editor, is a correct account of the affair as elicited in evidence, before the Examining Court. Of course it is not the province of your correspondent to express a private opinion or feeling in a simple narrative of evidence elicited on trial.

The season at the Springs has not been very crowded, but it has been very pleasant. Your friend, the writer hereof, has been greatly benefited in health by the free use of the hot waters, and the kind attention of Dr. O. A. Hobson, one of the most skillful and successful physicians in the country.

There have been quite a number of Kentuckians, who have come to this Mecca during the Summer, and have gone away satisfied with their pilgrimage.

The regular receipt of the "News," laden as it is with news, is an epoch in our weekly history to which we look forward with pleasure.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS.

SATURDAY, September 3.

A dispatch from Bouillon, Belgium, a few miles from Sedan, says the battle of Thursday was very bloody and resulted very disastrously for the French, who retreated on Metz. The Prussians now occupy Givenne, a few miles to the north-east of Sedan. Some ten thousand officers and soldiers of the French army were forced into Belgian territory, where they were required to surrender their arms. Another dispatch from Bouillon says Bazaine has driven the Prussians toward Sedan. A dispatch from Berlin yesterday says official news has not been received, but it is known that in the engagements of the 30th and 31st both sides suffered heavy losses. On Wednesday the Prussians resumed the offensive, but were drawn by Marshal McMahon under the guns of Sedan, where they suffered terribly before they succeeded in crossing the river. McMahon moved to Monson. A special dispatch from Paris to the New York Times says Paris breathed freer last night. The success of the French arms at Courcelles and Carignan settles the question of the abandonment of the siege of the capital. At Courcelles a fine cavalry corps of Prince Charles was drawn into an ambush and nearly all cut to pieces. At Carignan McMahon defeated the left wing and the center of the enemy and forced the right wing to retreat. A dispatch from St. Barthe dated the 1st says since Thursday forenoon Marshal Bazaine's forces have been fighting the First Prussian Corps the battle ending in the retreat of the latter. It is announced in London that on Wednesday Marshal Bazaine undertook to cut his way out from the shelter of the fortifications of Metz. The battle lasted all that day and the next evening, when on Thursday morning he was again driven within the walls.

INTERESTING TO THE FEDERAL SOLDIERS OF HARRISON COUNTY.

Land Warrants for Soldiers.

FAVETTEVILLE, JOHNSON COUNTY, Mo., August 17, 1870.

To the Editor of the Enquirer:

A neighbor handed me, yesterday, the Weekly Toledo Blade, of August 11th, 1870. Page 4, under the head of "Congress and the Soldiers," the ninth item, I read thus: "It was enacted that any one having been in the National service may enter a quarter section of land along any land-grant railway. The minimum price of these lands is $2.50 per acre, being double the value of other selections under the Homestead Law."

Under the original Homestead law, only eighty acres of $2.50 land could be entered as a homestead, by the amendatory act, any homestead discharged soldier, who has served not less than ninety days in the military, naval, marine, or revenue marine service during the rebellion, is entitled to enter as a homestead, one hundred and sixty acres of $2.50 land, upon payment of the legal fee of ten dollars; and the usual commission on the cash value of the lands allowed as compensation to the Register and Receiver. An effort was made to put the law into such a shape as to entitle the soldier to a deed after a nominal settlement of two years, but this was defeated, and the requirements as to personal residence upon the improvement and cultivation of the homestead selected, are not waived or altered in any respect, they being the fundamental conditions upon which all the provisions of the original Homestead law and the acts amendatory are based. The regulations under which entries of land under the above act may be made have not yet been made public by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The benefit a soldier will derive under the foregoing amendment, is as follows: He can pre-empt one hundred and sixty acres of land, worth $2.50 per acre, while others, under the Homestead law, can obtain but eighty acres of land. It will be remembered that a residence of five years is required in order to acquire a title.

For further information apply to Capt. K. F. Long, or to H. M. Magee, at the Post Office, Cynthiana, Ky.

Simmons' Liver Regulator.

Do not be discouraged. If you have dyspepsia or any disease of the Liver, there is a long life of happiness before you if you only use Simmons' Liver Regulator.

For the past two days has been the scene of wild and indescribable excitement. The people have thronged the streets and surrounded the Corps Legislatif in immense numbers. But one sentiment seems to be paramount—resistance to the invasion. No serious disorder has been yet reported. The Imperial arms, and sign and medals bearing the Imperial effigy, have been torn down and destroyed in all parts of the city, while shouts of "Vive la Republique" are continually heard.

WEDNESDAY, September 7th.

A dispatch from Pont-a-Mousson dated the 5th says negotiations relative to the capitulation of Metz are progressing. A detachment of officers had just returned from an interview with Bazaine outside of Metz. There is great suffering among the French troops in that fortress for want of food and medical stores. A London telegram states that McMahon lies dead at Namur, in Belgium, but a dispatch from Paris denies this report and says he may recover. The independence of Metz intimates that the Prince Imperial has already left for England via Ostend. The Empress Eugenie is at Brussels, and is about to start for London. The French troops falling back on Paris are under the command of Generals Vinoy and Manteuil. The Uhlans have been constantly on the heels of the army since its retreat began. The Prussians are advancing rapidly in enormous numbers toward Paris, and in four days will be in sight of the walls. Nothing of special interest has been received from Paris. The city remains quiet and orderly.

WHAT DOES REASON SAY?

The little mongrel, when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plan, cuts it off, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is justly. Human beings, on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwelcome influences. Now what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the insidious poison which generates disease? The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimony assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, possessing, strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties, which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation existing. This beverage is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is impaired either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

HOW MUCH THE WAR WILL COST.

The following anecdote was received by one of our citizens, an ardent sympathizer with Germany in the present war.

King William at the commencement of hostilities, inquired of Count Bismarck, how much he thought the war would cost? The Count responded promptly, "that he thought it would cost two Napoleons, the old one and the young one."

TO THE NERVOUS.

The natural result of exhaustion of strength by excessive labor or action, is a feeling of weakness, dullness, heaviness, weariness, languor of body or mind, etc. Persons of weak constitutions, or whose habits are sedentary, frequently complain of this relaxed condition of the vital energies; and when persons of a nervous temperament, who are overworked and debilitated, disease inevitably follows, unless it is at once checked and overcome. All who suffer from these causes, alike require a remedy which will strengthen the system without exciting it, and awake a feeling of true enjoyment, so that life may become a source of pleasure. MISLER'S HERB Bitters has won its way into the confidence of thousands of the most delicate persons, who warmly endorse it as the best invigorating agent, and the most potent and gentle of all tonics and stimulants, for strengthening and restoring the physical constitution.

a brief space in your paper this week. As I am a candidate before the Magistrates of this county for the office of School Commissioner, at the October Term of the Court of Claims, I am desirous that my political status be perfectly understood. I have always voted with the Democratic party, and have lived in Harrison county since my seventeenth year. My father was born and raised in the Province of Alsace, France, which I desire to state, because I want it known that no New England blood courses through my veins.

Suspicious Death—Foul Play in Grant County—A Murder Instead of a Suicide.

We gave the particulars yesterday of the death and supposed suicide of Thomas McCoy, at his residence in Dry Ridge, Grant county. Mr. McCoy was a young man, a trader by occupation, and no cause could be assigned for his supposed suicide. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death by his own hand. Since the coroner's inquest took place, additional facts have come to light which put a different aspect on the sad affair. It appears that McCoy, a few days previous to his death, had sold property for a considerable sum, and had on his person $2,200, besides a costly gold watch both of which are missing. The character, circumstances, and disposition of the deceased, together with the fact of his showing no unusual traits or symptoms, precludes the possibility of self-destruction. Money was seen in his possession several hours before the discovery of his death, no trace of which has since been found. Mr. McCoy's father died a few years ago and left him considerable property, and he was known to be in very prosperous circumstances. He is known to have made some arrangements about purchasing cattle, of some farmers in the neighborhood, and was to have perfected the bargain the day he was found dead. His non-appearance caused the farmers to go to his residence where his dead body was found suspended from the banisters on the stairs. The dark deed is to be investigated, when it is hoped the murderers of Mr. McCoy will be discovered.

HATING THE RICH.

Rev. Dr. L. L. Pinkerton, the "Christian" minister, the follower of the meek and lowly Jesus, who is just now more interested in finding the way to Washington than in pointing out the road to Heaven, in his speech to the dummies at our court house, gave the following as his reason for being a Republican. Said he: "I was reared a poor boy in Virginia. When the time came for working roads, the son of Mr. —, a rich man called at my father's house and notified us to go and work the road. On the day specified we repaired to the road, and in common with other poor whites and the negroes, commenced working; while the rich young man drove past and splattered mud upon me. This," said the doctor "made me a republican, and to this day when I think of the snobs and airs of the rich it is hard for me to pray."—True Kentuckian. Poor Pinkerton!

GENERAL LEE.

We are glad Gen. Lee has not tendered his services to either of the European belligerents. He can safely rest his military reputation where it now is. The Prussian Field Marshal Von Moltke, in the presence of several American gentlemen, once paid the great Confederate chieftain a compliment which, from such lips, was indeed worth having. "I consider General Lee," said the old veteran, "as a soldier not inferior to Wellington." His auditors were all Northern men, but they relished the remark none the less as a deserved tribute to an American soldier.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

EDWIN H. EWING.

Of Murfreesboro, Tenn., has written an elaborate and forcible argument to show that the third section of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, disabling persons from certain offices for participating in the rebellion, is so far as it operates retroactively, null and void, because in conflict with the Constitution and beyond the scope of the amending power.

A Wedding.

There was to have been a wedding in Nashville the other night. The dusky bride was a servant in the house. She was gorgeously arrayed and had several of her friends to witness the ceremony. After the preacher had arrived and nearly an hour had been lost in awaiting the dilaatory bridegroom, the latter slouched in, wearing his "every-day clothes," and electrified the assembly with the announcement, "It's no use! Dis here 'rangement can't come off. My other wife won't let me have my good close." The bride fainted and the ceremony was indefinitely postponed.

The following summary of distances will be interesting at present, in connection with the Prussian invasion of France: From Paris, east, the stations and their distances are: Nancy, 220 miles; thence north to Metz, 244 miles; thence east to St. Avold, 274 miles; Forbach (France), 274 miles. From Paris, east again, the stations and distances are: Luneville, 240 miles; Arcourt, 255 miles; Sarrebourg, 263 miles; Sarverne, 255 miles; Strasburg (France), 312 miles. From Strasburg across the Rhine, to Kelp the distance is 12 1/2 miles.

Li Po Sai is a Chinese doctor, who has made much money and fame in San Francisco, and this is his diagnosis of the case of an American gentleman who consulted him: "I think you too much dance, too much eat, too much fool round. If you dance you no get better; too much eating no good; too much fooling round no good. Good-by."

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York, August 15th, 1868.
Allow me to call your attention to my

Preparation of Compound Extract Buchu.

The component parts are BUCHU LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JANI-FER BERRIES.

MODERATE PREPARATION.—Buchu, in decoction with Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance, the action of a laser destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation is unadulterated, the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopoeia, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hope that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approval.

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
U. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist, of 16 Years' Experience.

(From the Largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.)

November 4, 1864.
I am acquainted with Mr. U. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

Is the great specific for Universal Lassitude, Prostration, &c.

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or its ally ensues.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract of Buchu.

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any preparation in Chlorosis, or Retention, Catarrhes, or Suppression of Menstruation, Evacuations, Elevated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu and Improved Rose Wash

Will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure, completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copalva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor. "Immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Purificative. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. Price—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SIMMONS
The symptoms of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general active, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility, and low spirits. Sometimes, some of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the Liver with

DR. SIMMONS' Liver Regulator,

A preparation of roots and herbs, warranted to be strictly vegetable, and can do no injury to any one.

It has been used by hundreds, and known for the last 35 years as one of the most reliable, efficacious and harmless preparations ever offered to the suffering. It cures regularly and persistently, it is sure to cure.
